Berkowitz
A FURNITURE FAMILY

The Berkowitz Story

The Berkowitz Furniture story started over 120 years ago in England, when our founder, Samuel Berkowitz, started a small cabinet-making business on Petticoat Lane, in the East End of London.

Samuel migrated to Australia in 1912, seeking a warmer alternative to the cold British climate he had grown up in. He set up shop in Melbourne, opening a small furniture factory in Prahran manufacturing fine bedroom and dining furniture.

Samuel, joined by his three sons, grew the business from a small traditional furniture maker to a large manufacturing operation. It was from this factory on Malvern Road that they started selling directly to the public.

In 1949 the three sons opened the first Berkowitz Fine Furniture store in Collins Street in central Melbourne, adding retail to their existing manufacturing business.

For Five Generations, A Furniture Family.

In 1962 Samuel's grandson Lionel Berkowitz opened a second city store on Little Collins Street. By 1970 the first highway store opened in Nunawading in Melbourne's East and expanded to other Highway stores.

The Fourth generation of the Berkowitz family joined the business in 1988, when Lionel's son Peter took over the reins.

Since then we have grown considerably, but still maintain a passion for high quality, great value and above all, outstanding customer service, with ingrained values of our founder Samuel Berkowitz.

Today a fifth generation joins the family business, with Samuel's great-great grandson Justin beginning on his journey with Berkowitz Furniture.
